THE CLOCK

02

Three business days. Then it's in your hands.

Once a lender has the six details of your application, it has three business days to send your Loan Estimate.

Until you get it and say you want to proceed, the lender can't charge fees beyond a reasonable credit report fee. So you can compare lenders without paying to do it.

03

Loan terms, and what can change.

- Loan amount, interest rate and monthly principal and interest
- The rate lock box: “No” means your rate is still floating
- “Can this amount increase?” should read No on a fixed-rate loan

CHECK THIS

If it says Yes and you expected a fixed rate, ask whether you were quoted an ARM.

04

Section C is where shopping pays.

Section C lists services you can shop for, usually title and settlement. Your lender has to give you a written list of providers, and you can generally choose one that isn't on it.

> Compare Section C line by line across Loan Estimates. Two lenders can quote the same rate with very different fees.

05

Line offers up side by side.

- APR shows the cost of the loan with fees, as a yearly rate
- Total interest percentage: interest paid over the life of the loan
- In 5 years: what you'll have paid, and how much went to principal
